Mayor Harry Mason and Commissioner B. Daniels say they are anxious to co-operate with J. D. Summerour in his effort to have the Olive street lake included in the new game preserve, now being established in this section under the direction of Warden W. A. Loh. But they suggest that the wood forest in the rear of Mr. Summerour's building on North Main be added to the preserve. It would make a wonderful refuge for bear, deer and other species of large wild game, they declare. With the lake used as a breeding place for wild ducks, wild geese and other water fowls and Mr. Summerour's thick et as a preserve for bear and deer, Vernon should be a great help to the State in fostering an increase in wild game.

The story of an East Texan coming west to buy a newspaper. He found a property that suited him and entered into negotiations to buy it, but announced to the owner that he could not when he learned that Thursday was press day. The reason he gave was that he always had chills on Thursday. Saturday has come to be "chill" day for a number of business men since the football season opened. Many of these have tried to get games played on Friday, instead of Saturday. Unlike the East Texan their days for chills can be shifted from one day to another. The attacks next Saturday are not expected to strike the victims as early as last Saturday. The local team plays at home Saturday and chill victims can postpone the attacks until about 2:30.

The Staley bridge across Red River, between Oklahoma and Davidson, is nearing completion. Only about 600 feet of the structure is unfinished. The work has been delayed considerably during the past few weeks on the account of inclement weather. An announcement sent out from Lee highway headquarters last week stated that this bridge, which will be a little more than a mile long, will be the longest bridge in the United States west of the Mississippi River. A celebration is planned by citizens of Vernon, Oklahoma, Davidson and Frederick when the bridge is thrown open to traffic.

District Judge Robert Colz delivered an address before the Rotary Club Tuesday, explaining the functions of the courts and emphasizing the fact that verdicts in criminal cases are returned by juries made up of citizens. He told of some of the handicaps under which the courts operate and insisted that there is need for some changes in the system of jurisprudence in order to expedite justice. He concluded his address, however, with the statement men can not be made righteous by law and that no amount of law could foster the intellectual, moral and spiritual life of the people. This must come from proper training and through the influences for the promotion of spiritual life of the people.

The list of charter members of The Vernon Daily Record will be closed at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and initiation fees in the form of a year's subscription to the new daily newspaper should be paid before that hour. MACHINERY IS HERE TO DRILL WATER WELLS

New Wells Will Increase Water Supply Million Gallons Daily, Contract Between City and the Layne-Texas Company of Houston Specifies.

Equipment for drilling water wells arrived in Vernon Thursday morning and the Layne-Texas Company, of Houston, will begin the drilling of a number of wells to increase Vernon's water supply approximately 1,000,000 gallons daily within the next ten days. The company has just completed a number of wells for the City of Quanah.

The company which specializes in the drilling of wells and water development, was recently awarded a contract by the City of Vernon to increase the water supply of this city 1,000,000 gallons daily. The machinery which will be used for drilling the wells was immediately unloaded. Tests have been made and the wells will be drilled in the northwestern part of the city near the large city main. Vernon has 22 wells which supply about 750,000 gallons of water daily. In the summer time, the city uses approximately 750,000 gallons of water each day and it is now using approximately 500,000 gallons each day.

Mayor Harry Mason has decided that Vernon must have an adequate water supply for future development.

A. Baggett. Crouch has been out for several weeks owing to a wrenched knee, an injury which he received in the game with Sayre, Okla.

The Lion mentor will not say whether he would use Crouch later in the game if it became necessary. However, the manner in which he has been using the big back in practice sessions this week indicates that he intends to use the crippled veteran some in tomorrow's contest. COTTON SHOULD BE PICKED GIN OPERATORS SAY

Heavy Losses to Farmers Predicted If Snapping of Cotton Continues in Texas, Mill Operators Announce in Warning.

Wilbarger County farmers are facing considerable losses on the balance of the present cotton crop, if they continue to snap cotton instead of picking it, it was learned from local gin proprietors.

Cotton which has thoroughly dried out before it is snapped is now bringing approximately the same price on the local market as picked cotton. During the recent wet weather, considerable cotton was snapped in Wilbarger county and gin operators estimate that 25 per cent of the cotton brought to local gins is snapped. Gin operators and cotton buyers are urging the farmers not to snap cotton which is not thoroughly dried out. Wet snap cotton sells for about three and a half cents less per pound than picked cotton in Vernon and this means a loss of approximately $15 a bale to the farmers who snap their crop.

Cotton pickers are being paid from $1.25 to $1.50 per hundred pounds for picking cotton and from 75 cents to $1.00 per hundred for snapping cotton. Local cotton men say that the farmers will save considerable money if they pick their crops. M. H. Wolfe Cotton Factories, Inc., of Dallas, have sounded a warning to Texas cotton farmers and merchants against snap cotton.

The statement declares that Texas cotton farmers are facing heavy losses on the balance of the present crop if they continue to snap cotton instead of picking it. Only a few mills are equipped to use snap cotton and on the market the price will be reduced to a low level, perhaps to half price of picked cotton, the company asserts.

THIEF STEALS POLICE CHIEF'S CAR TUESDAY

That Vernon car thieves respect no one, is the opinion often voiced in official circles here. Police Chief W. W. Gilbert strongly seconds that opinion, for a thief stole that official Ford touring car Tuesday afternoon. The car was stolen from its parking place in front of the city hall.

It was as first thought some practically joker had decided to have a little fun at the expense of the city's chief of police, but as the car is still missing, officials have decided that, although the thief may have had a sense of humor, he was in earnest.

Pictorium Offers "Up the Ladder" and Other Feature

The theory that "what one woman makes another breaks," whether it be a toy or a man, is vividly portrayed in Virginia Valli's latest starring vehicle "Up the Ladder," the Universal Jewel feature directed by Edward Slemmon and which is showing at the Pictorium today.

A quadrangle, not a triangle, is version of Owen Davis' stage success. The story revolves around a young woman who twice submits herself to a great sacrifice that she may save the man she loves—only to see that love taken from her.

Virginia Valli first as the sweet heart, sacrifices her personal fortune to save from oblivion a great invention which her lover, played by Forrest Stanley, has perfected. This invention—the televisionphone, an apparatus which will make possible for one to see to whom one is conversing on the telephone—and which, incidentally, scientist are now endeavoring to perfect, is successfully placed on the market and her lover, now her husband, is famous and wealthy man.

made up by the love interest running through "The Burning Trail," the blue streak western starring William Desmond, to be screened at the Pictorium theatre tomorrow.

The unusual feature is the two leading men, and two leading women.

William Desmond as the principal character in the story, and Jack Daugherty, as the sturdy owner of a huge sheep ranch, are the masculine participants and for cinematic purposes they fall in love with Dolores Rousseau and Mary McIvor respectively.

This, however, is one of the minor features of the story, for the picture tells a vivid story of the familiar range war between cattle and sheep ranchers.

Desmond, as a wandering adventurer, takes part in the feud not for his own interests, but for the purpose of ending the quarrel. After a pitched battle between opposing factions, he manages to make permanent peace and incidentally, win the girl in the case.

Arthur Rosson is credited with the direction of "The Burning Trail," which Isadore Bernstein adapted from a Henry Herbert Knibbs' novel.

Son of His Father Coming For Two Day Run Monday

That the west is not entirely devoid of its 1849 glamour is proven in Harold Bell Wright's newest novel, "A Son of His Father," which Victor Fleming directed for Paramount, which is coming Monday for two-day run at The Vernon.

Bessie Love, a young Irish girl, comes to Tucson, Arizona, to join her brother, a cowboy on Warner Baxter's ranch.

Arriving at her destination, however, the boy is not there to meet her; Baxter receives her kindly and tells her the brother has been sent to the mountains to round up some stray cattle. In reality, the boy has joined a party of cattle smugglers and rangers.

As time passes, Bessie Love learns from McGrail the truth about her brother—that he has turned thief. She sets out to try to win him back to honesty. In her attempt, she is herself imprisoned by the smugglers and is about to be taken over the border to Mexico. Baxter, learning of her plight, sets out to rescue her. A thrilling battle follows between the ranchmen and the smugglers, the result of which leads up to a smashing climax for the story and calls into action an entire company of United States cavalry. Immediately following this scene comes a second ripping climax that is entirely unexpected and that is put upon the screen in the way that only that master of thrills, Victor Fleming, is capable.

WILL ROGERS COMING TO WICHITA FALLS

Will Rogers, Oklahoma cowboy who has become America's greatest humorist, and the De Reszke Singers, an internationally famous male quartette, will appear in Wichita Falls on the night of Monday November 16, in a double entertainment bill at the Junior College auditorium. They are being brought to Wichita Falls by the Musicians' Club of Wichita Falls.

The mail order advance seat sale will open on November 2. The prices are $3.50 for lower front rows and first rows on the balcony; center lower floor $2.50, and the remainder of the house $2.00. Mail orders should be addressed to Musicians' Club, Ticket department, P. O. Box 1483. Reservations must contain remittance and stamped and addressed envelope.

Will Rogers was born in Oklahoma on a ranch twelve miles from Claremore, and brought up there. It was there that he lived the most impressionable years of his life and something of the fine vigorous breath of outlook must have been instilled in him from the naturalness of that rugged great state. He is an American by birth, breeding and point of view.

Fame has lassoed Will Rogers. Celebrities used to come to these shores from other lands and the first thing they wanted to see were the tall buildings but Rogers towering above the skyline. "I say," said the Prince of Wales when he first arrived, "I should like to meet Will Rogers." "Fishes mean nothing to Rogers," One can imagine the Prince being far more afraid of his clever penetrating eyes than Rogers was of the formal background that surrounds His Royal Highness, Edward, Albert, Christian, George, Andrew, Patrick, David, Prince of Wales.

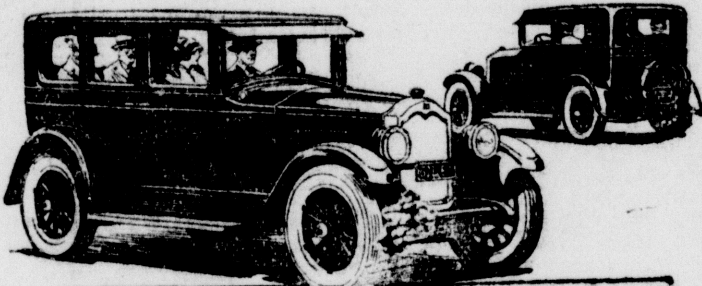

Will Rogers has grown into an American institution. He is our unofficial ambassador. No one has ever assailed the honesty of his opinions. He can with penetrating flash of genius, turn the spot light of Truth on political subterfuge and it is the lightning humor of his attack that strikes the hardest.

He has developed into an international celebrity yet he is still the Will Rogers of years ago. Fame has come to him but in his perfect simplicity he doesn't seem to know it. His stage presence is no pose. Off the platform he is just the same ungrammatical child-like entertainer, hesitating in his speech, grinning at his own words and seemingly unconscious of his charm. Rogers stays what he always was, a prairie home sage brush refusing to change under the artificial heat of the large cities.

Personal experience, the close experience of one who has been in constant and active contact with the famous people of our time has given Will Rogers a knowledge of human nature that makes all the world listen when he speaks. Of the De Reszke Singers, the New York Times said:

"After two successful seasons in England the De Reszke Singers on their first American tour, gave their first New York concert last evening. They are four singers, pupils of Jean De Reszke, all Americans and they made an unusual ensemble. Their voices taken singly are good grouped time speeches gypsy gairish lull obil together they command variety of tone color, while at the same time effectively blending with each other."

Over 125 People Will Attend Big Bourland Banquet

An interesting program has been arranged for the banquet at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening at the First Presbyterian Church honoring A. M. Bourland, who has accepted the presidency of the Safety First Investment Company. Stockholders of the company and associates of H. A. Wittliff, president of the Wittliff Agency and state manager of the International Life Insurance Company are giving the banquet.

Approximately 125 influential citizens of Vernon and surrounding communities will attend the affair. Mr. Wittliff in the feature address at the banquet will explain his new way of handling the insurance business and the methods of organization.

Judge John M. Scott, former state commissioner of insurance, who is now manager of the Wittliff Agency, in an address will give facts and figures on the insurance business of Texas and explain how the money is distributed to all parts of the state. Mrs. G. Frank Coffey, special field representative of the Wittliff Agency, will explain the woman's view of life insurance.

R. H. Nichols will be master of ceremonies at the banquet and will call on the guests for impromptu talks. Mayor Harry Mason will welcome the new company to Vernon.

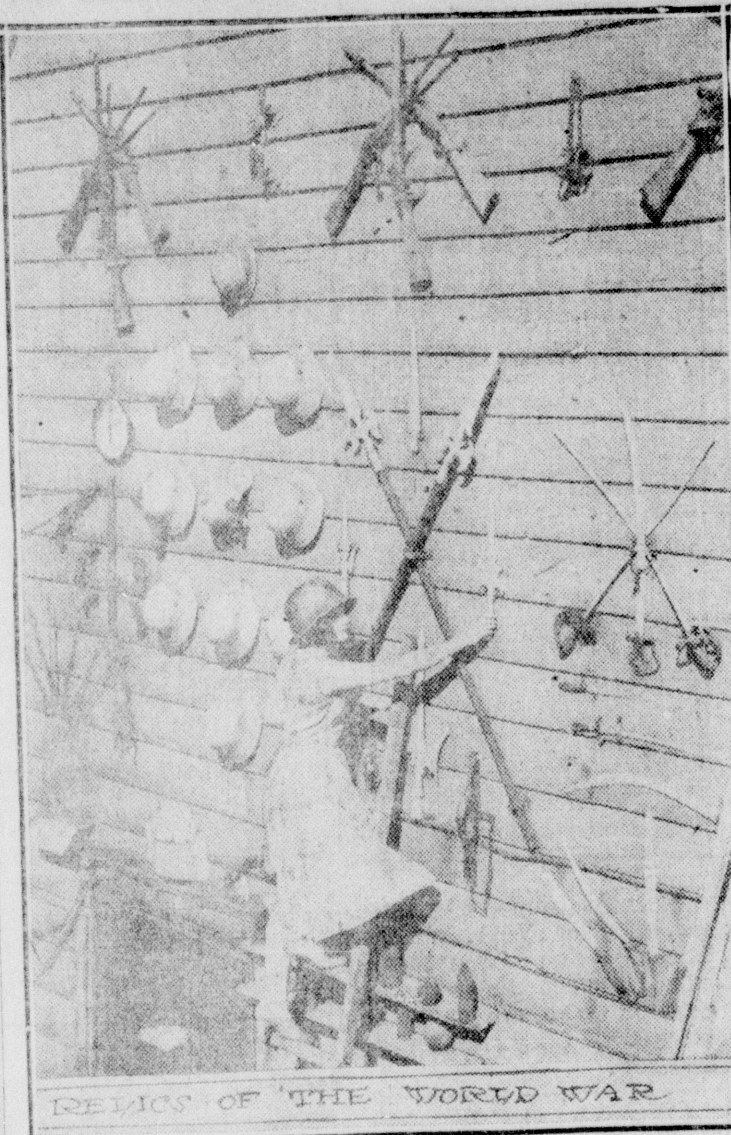

Officers of the Safety First Investment Company have been moved to the Waggoner National Bank Building from Wichita Falls and will be open Monday.

A. B. Hays is district manager for the Wittliff Agency. An excellent entertainment program has been outlined for the banquet and will feature a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank B. Wilson, a violin solo by Mrs. F. C. McClurg and a reading by Mrs. Leon H. Brown. The banquet will be served by the women of the Delphian Club.

Girl a Mascot

Pauline Blair, of New York City, American born and bred, has the distinction of being the first American girl to be chosen as mascot of an English ocean going liner.

Lion Roars

With the continued cool weather, Coach Baggett has been sending his squad through practice sessions at top speed, and the club is looking better than at any time this year. There appears to be little doubt that the organization he sends against the Coyotes at Fair Park tomorrow afternoon will be the strongest he has displayed this year.

Both Crouch and Ryan are going through practice, and are showing the best of form. Unless something else happens, only one member of the squad will be on the sideline because of injuries when the team lines up in front of the Coyotes tomorrow. Castleberry, who is nursing a dislocated shoulder received in last Saturday's game against the Electra Tigers, is the only member of the squad that is handicapped by injuries.

In several ways the addition of Ryan and Crouch will strengthen the club. Anyone who witnessed the game last Saturday, could not help but observe the difference in the spirit displayed by the team after Ryan took the field general's position. Ryan is an excellent broken-field runner. Crouch will also strengthen the club by his broken-field running and line-plunging. The Ryan-to-Crouch passing combination has consistently proved to be the strongest aerial attack Baggett has used this year, and in practice sessions this week the combination has been functioning as perfectly as ever.

Sports writers at Wichita Falls appear to have considerable trouble settling the argument as to how bad the Coyotes are handicapped by injuries. One writer contends that the Coyotes will be represented by the second and third string, while another emphatically states that the squad will not be crippled by injuries. Since the Coyote first string has not played since the game with Electra, it appears entirely probable that all the injuries have had time to heal.

Electra and Quanah are settling their argument at Electra this afternoon in order that they may witness the Lion-Coyote affair here tomorrow. Both Quanah and Electra have been put out of the championship race by Vernon, and both appear to believe that Vernon will go far in the championship race.

All indications point toward a record attendance at the game tomorrow, if the weather permits. Officials here are of the opinion that the grand stand will not seat the spectators. This will probably necessitate standing on the side lines. If this becomes necessary, officials have requested that spectators stand well back of the lines. Vernon fans should not need to be asked to stand back, as the memory of the ten-yard penalty given the Vernon team in the game against Sayre because of the spectators should be fresh in the minds of all local fans. Of course the penalty did not mean much in that game, but ten yards will certainly mean ten yards in tomorrow's game.

Card of Thanks.

Words fail to express our thanks, at a time like this, to the many friends for their deeds of kindness and words of sympathy during the brief illness and death of our dear son and nephew, little Elbert, whom God saw fit to take from our home. May God's richest blessings be yours in the prayer of his heart broken parents, sisters and brothers, and uncle and aunt.

Dear Key:
I just feel, Key, like taking my girl out in a different kind of machine to my Willys-Knight and shaking her.

The other night while viewing "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" and when the operator was reeling, she laughs and opens her mouth so wide that when I looked close, I found there wasn't any real about here. I mean her teeth.
This led to a falling out. Not of the teeth, but between us. She said the diamond I gave her was false, and why shouldn't her teeth be. It's well, Key, to find out about a woman before you're tied to her, but not to find her teeth out. Women ought to come out in the open and tell us their faults or false.
I guess, Key, the only thing with-out de faults to come out in the open, is a Willys-Knight.

Yours everlastingly,
RICH SMITHWIT.

To the People of Vernon

A false report has been circulated to the effect that the present epidemic of tonsillitis among people is due to milk coming from cows afflicted with foot and mouth disease. This is erroneous. There is no foot and mouth disease in this section of state. My cows are healthy. They are regularly inspected and are accredited as free from tuberculosis and other contagious diseases by the Federal and State authorities.

Notice Important!
No sick cows in Wilbarger County. No hoof and mouth disease nearer than Houston.
A rumor has been current in Vernon for the past few days, that hoof and mouth disease had appeared in the Dairy Herds of Vernon and the rumor has grown, until some are asserting that some of the cattle have been condemned and shot. Needless to say, the entire story is a fabrication, without the slightest basis of fact, and not a single animal has been condemned or has been sick. My own herd is at the dairy barn from 12:00 noon to 4:00 p. m. every day and everyone is cordially invited to come out and see, as healthy and placid cattle as can be found in the State.

Lions Set For Championship Fray With Wichita Falls Coyotes At Fair Park Tomorrow Afternoon

Coach Baggett announces that his squad is ready for the game of games, the Wichita Falls-Vernon contest, a game that will mark another milestone in the history of the rivalry of the two ancient foes as well as settle the championship argument for the eastern end of district one of the Inter-scholastic League. The squad went through their last scrimmage session yesterday, and this afternoon's practice will be centered on skill practice and signal drill.

In practice sessions, the squad appears to be stronger than at any time this year. Cool afternoons have made it possible to drill the squad unusually hard this week, and Baggett and Wilmon have taken advantage of the opportunity. The second string has been using the plays used by Wichita Falls in earlier games, and the regulars have been building up a strong defense against these particular plays.

Trick plays are likely to play an important part in tomorrow's game. Press reports from Wichita Falls indicate that McCallum has drilled the Coyotes on new formations practically all week. At various intervals this year, Coach Baggett has given his squad several good ground games that have not as yet been used, and the Lions will no doubt use everything tomorrow.

According to press reports, McCallum will also display the strongest machine Saturday that he has used this year. His club practically remained inactive last week, although the second string played a game with Grandfield, Okla. After a week's rest, the club is going through scrimmage sessions with the Indians of Junior College in a creditable manner. McCallum and his entire pack witnessed the Tiger-Lion fray at Electra last Saturday, and now appear to be confident that they have a line-up on the local players. However, they learned little about the squad that will meet them tomorrow, as Baggett's club will function as a different machine with Crouch and Ryan back in the line-up.

The game here tomorrow may be the last that the Lions will play on the local gridiron this year, as it will end the schedule outlined by the interscholastic league. If the Lions win, they will be matched with Plainview for the championship of this district, and the game may or may not be played in Vernon. Should the Lions come out with the light end of the score tomorrow, other games will no doubt be scheduled for the remainder of the season, but they may not be played here. It will be impossible to match games with teams near home, and attendance at the game this year hardly warrants paying a team to come here from a distance.

ASK RETURN OF MINISTERS

BOTH PASTOR AND PRESID-ING ELDER ASKED TO BE SENT BACK BY PETITION.

Resolutions asking the return of Rev. O. P. Clark, presiding elder of the Vernon district, and of Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the First Methodist Church, were passed by the fourth quarterly conference of the local congregation Wednesday night. The passage of the resolution came at the close of the conference when officers were elected for the ensuing year and reports of the year's work were received.

Reports show the year just closed to have been one of the best in the history of the church. All financial obligations were met in full and unusually large contributions to missions, educational enterprises and the orphanage were reported during the year. A gain in church membership of 153 was shown.

Rev. Clark and Rev. Bickley and a number of laymen from here will attend the Northwest Annual Conference which opens in Canyon Wednesday, November 11. A resolution was passed inviting Rev. Burke Culpepper, a noted evangelist, to begin a revival meeting here on Sunday, November 15. Rev. Culpepper and his singer will come here from Holdenville, Okla.

WHY A SPECIAL SESSION?

The agitation for a special session of the Legislature has so far failed to include from any one a reason for calling it. Speaker Satterwhite says he will call a special session, if the Governor does not, to investigate the affairs of the Highway Department and the alleged waste of public money.

That is all very fine, but the Legislature is not a part of the executive branch of the state government. Its powers are limited to legislation and the appropriation of public money and to impeachment proceedings. Once money is appropriated it becomes the duty of the executive department to expend it. If it is misappropriated the offending officers are accountable to the courts for violation of criminal laws. If there is bribery or corruption on the part of public officers they can be indicted and tried in the courts. The Legislature can do nothing toward the punishment of any officer for mismanagement of his affairs or for misconduct in office, except through impeachment proceedings.

With the functions of the Legislature limited by the constitution to legislation and impeachment there can be no excuse for calling a special session unless it is proposed to amend laws governing the expenditure of money by the Highway Department or to institute impeachment proceedings. Speaker Satterwhite and no one else, so far as The Record has been able to note, proposes to do either of these things.

If members of the Highway Commission have violated the law or their oath of office, they can be indicted by a grand jury, tried before a jury in district court, and, if found guilty, be punished. The Attorney General is presenting these and other matters to a grand jury, we are told by press dispatches. No special session of the Legislature is needed for this. An investigation by the Legislature would be useless, unless the investigation is made for the purpose of enacting new laws, amending old ones or for the purpose of instituting impeachment proceedings.

No one is apparently advocating a change in the laws that would justify a special session and there has been no hint of impeachment charges against members of the Highway Commission or any other state officer, so far as The Record has been able to learn. Under these conditions there seems to be nothing for the Legislature to do except to allow the courts and the executive department of the government to correct any irregularities.

MOST PEOPLE ARE HONEST

The head of a concern which operates rent cars in Chicago, New York and one or two other large cities is credited with the statement that his experience lasting over a period of several years indicates that 999 out of every thousand are honest.

The concern owns automobiles which are rented to persons who wish to act as their own drivers. The machines are rented to all applicants. The only identification or recommendation required is that the applicant furnish evidence that he is the person he claims to be. There is every opportunity for fraud in this kind of business. If one wished to steal a car all he would have to do would be to present some sort of card bearing an assumed name and a fictitious address. Once in the possession of the automobile he could go as far as he wished before any steps would be taken to arrest him.

The head of this concern stated that during the past twelve months in the city of Chicago only six attempts were made to get away with the rented cars, out of the thousand who rented them under the customary terms.

The cars are rented on a mileage basis, that is, the charge is based on the number of miles traveled by the driver. The machines are put out with gasoline and oil tanks full, extra tires and the usual equipment. No marks are on the cars to make them distinguishable from privately owned machines. One might rent one of the company's cars, drive to a distant city, abandon it and there would be little possibility of his ever being apprehended. But as a matter of actual experience not one in a thousand does anything but drive the car about the city, returns it to the owners and pay the charges for the use of it.

This man has built his business, and it is a great individual enterprise doing millions of dollars worth of business each year and having a tremendous investment in automobiles, buildings and workshops, on his faith in the honesty of humanity. He is making money, but more important than this, he has demonstrated by actual experience under the most trying conditions imaginable that the vast majority of people are honest.

Those who believe that the world is getting worse and that most men are crooks when they are confronted with an even chance to profit by crookedness might reflect over the experience of this man who backs his faith in humanity with real money—and wins.

THE DAILY STARTS MONDAY.

With this issue The Record goes out of existence as a semi-weekly publication. Monday it will make its appearance as a daily, the fourth such enterprise to be launched in the history of Vernon. The other three dailies were published here in the early days of the development of this section and were strictly local affairs, that is, no wire news was published.

The Record will begin publication with a leased wire of The Associated Press, a six-hour service that will begin at 8 o'clock in the morning and close at 2 o'clock each afternoon. Similar service is being taken by a number of other papers in Texas in the smaller cities.

It is seldom that a new daily paper is launched in a city no larger than Vernon with a leased wire connection. Usually the wire news is received over the Western Union telegraph wires or through the long distance telephone. The publishers of The Record obtained the leased wire connections for the purpose of giving the very best service obtainable. Naturally this service costs more money than telegraph or telephone service, but the people of Vernon and Wilbarger County have always been loyal to The Record and the publishers believe they are entitled to the very best service possible.

Many expressions of good wishes have been received from friends and the publishers start the new enterprise firmly convinced that it will be a success from the start and will be an enterprise for the advancement of the city's interests of which every citizen can feel proud.

It is believed that a paper as distinctive in the small-city daily field can be published as The Record has been for years in the weekly and semi-weekly class. Look for the daily Monday.

TO YOU.

(Record Staff Poet)
The world may read these lines dear,
And the world will find them true;
But the words of truth I have written here,
Came straight from my heart to you.
For I wanted to share with you friend,
The knowledge that came to me,
That each of us in his upward trend,
Is like a ship at sea.

Love is the glowing quenchless fires,
By coals of pure thoughts fed;
Will is the steam that still aspires
To reach some goal ahead.
Determination, the engines strong,
That faith well oiled should keep;
And courage, the lookout, though
Tried long,
Must not one moment sleep.

Miss Emma Gunter, home demonstration agent, wishes to call your attention again to the importance of a variety of sweets that can be used in the school lunch box. The dried fruits furnish not only a very delicious dish but can be used in combination with other nourishing foods and give the child some of the things they do not know they are getting.

Prune Whip.

Any dried fruit may be used to take the place of prunes in this recipe, but use some dried fruit.

Cook prunes that have been soaked overnight, run them through a sieve or press them into a pulp with a potato masher to form prune meat.

Your Charge Account...

is merely a convenience extended to you, which permits you to buy merchandise and pay for it at the end of an accepted period.

The terms upon which the credit is extended should be clearly understood when the account is opened—then it is your duty to see that your bills are paid on or before the date designated.

If this policy is always followed, you will find that your charge purchases are always welcomed. Credit is the result of years of fair dealings. It is a gauge to your character, so guard it as sacredly as your most priceless possession.

Take stock of yourself today. If you have become careless in meeting your obligations, now is the time to change for the better—before your charge privilege is withdrawn.
